Description

We are getting ready a new project called „Reused but chic“. The project will consist of several phases.

- 1) In the first one each class will collect clothes, shoes and accessories they do not wear any more. Students will make a list of products, set a reasenable price and get them ready to sell.
- 2) In the second phase students will organize an Exchange day at school when they will be allowed to sell or swap products.
- 3) The third phase is concerning about revision of income which will be granted to ADRA charity.

Students will donate products that will left as unsold to charity containers for free.

The aim of our project is to learn students not to waist, reuse clothes and be symphatetic with people in difficult social situation.
